VOLUME 12 NUMBER 8

BOSTON, MASS.

MAY 1956

CLEMENT RILEY SPEAKER - - - ANNIE NAMED "MISS SUFFOLK"

DR. DICK BOOKER

The stirring lyrics of our National Anthem, sung by the entire audience, speeches, songs, presentation of awards and trophies, and finally the crowning of an overwhelmed but happy Miss Annie Young as "Miss Suffolk of 1956," allowed for two hours of school spirit and enthusiasm that makes Suffolk's "Recognition Day" a yearly "must!"

Miss Young, a petite brunette, was crowned by last year's queen, Miss Connie Fischella. Amid a standing ovation and the warm congratulations of her competitors for the honor, the 20 year-old junior, a bit shaken from the surprise, uttered her appreciation.

Arthur Wainer, President of the club, introduced the panelists to a large group of students and faculty members present, and stated, "The club is striving to promote a fraternity-type group and will be one of the more popular clubs in the future."

Dr. Pierce stressed the fact that today's teachers "must have a religious point of view." He noted "A straightforward happy person who has no religion is a really totally positive, good morale." We could not understand literature if we had no biblical knowledge. It is part of our mental makeup. The life and character of himself. The Indian teaching of religious facts stem through education."

Second member of the panel, Father Edwin Kron, CSP, related "Thousands of dollars are spent to educate college men and their can be no satisfaction if their is no religious guidance. Bad morale can be predominate."

RAMS MOVE AHEAD AFTER HEX START

The Federal Republic of Germany has just established sixty special scholarships for American graduate students for study in Germany during the 1956-57 academic year.

June 1, 1956, is the closing date of the competition.

The scholarships, open to U.S. college graduates will pay $900 DM a month, tuition at any institution of higher education in West Germany or West Berlin, plus round-trip travel. There are no restrictions on fields of study. A knowledge of German is a prerequisite. Candidates in music and art who do not have degrees are eligible.

Candidates for these awards may procure applications from the Institute of International Education, 1 East 67th Street, New York 21, New York.

After an ignominious defeat at the hands of Tufts, Suffolk's 1956 baseball cast is now soaring.

Bombed 16-2 by Jumbo bats that swished for greater distance than their trunks, the S.U. nine had rallied to win four in a row as the Journal went to press.

HUNT SIDELINED

Candidate for the "hard luck" award in baseball this Spring is Suffolk's 64 inch sophomore catcher Carl Hunt.

Hunt received a sprained thumb in the season's opener with Tufts and was sidelined for three games.

TO THE SENIORS -- FAREWELL

You will, in all too few days now, cease to be regularly enrolled undergraduate students at Suffolk. You will, however, always be Suffolk men and women, regularly classed as Alumni.

As Alumni, you will be integrated into what may be called a "memory group." Most of your meditating and talking with other graduates will be in the memory vein. While you are recalling your experiences, you should reflect on many things—principally the pleasant associations with the faculty and students who have influenced your ways of life in breadth and scope.

Memory is that which gives experience. Without memory you cannot gain experience and experience is most essential in success. Mental ability alone will not yield success in competition. It must be in conjunction with memory, and application of fundamental principles, to maintain success in competition.

Memory also contributes to pleasure. Therefore, continue, always, to indulge in the memories of the happy times you had while you were students at Suffolk—your Alma Mater.

Farewell, Seniors, and may the best of everything come to you and yours.

President,
Suffolk University

FOND FINIS FINALLY

Last September your Journal staff had the assignment of publishing eight issues for the school year. This issue culminates our assignment.

We didn't have any Hollywood-type "scoops," most of our predictions were wrong, and many times we barely made the deadline, but we hope the consensus of opinion concerning our efforts will be favorable.

To the students, faculty, administration, alumni, and Suffolk friends we extend our deep thanks for courteous cooperation. Without cooperation we would still be working on Issue no. 1. Working with people and facts, naturally, is a reporter's first function. We have found this past year most rewarding, both in friendship and experience.

We tried to do our job with a minimum of fanfare and complete objectivity. We hope we succeeded.

Next year's staff, under the mature guidance of Louis Connelly, is looking forward to the same good-natured cooperation that harvested eight issues this year. We hope the 56-57 staff has learned from our mistakes, and we know that the Suffolk Journal will always print "anything that is factual and in good taste."

Thank you for a wonderful year.

(All letters submitted to the Editor for publication must be signed.)

Dear Editor:

At a meeting of the Phi Beta Chi on May 10th, two new members were initiated into this society: honor, fraternity. Mr. Douglas Kenney and Mr. Julius Mikulak were introduced by Dr. Nelson J. Anderson, Secretary-Treasurer of Phi Beta Chi, and initiated by President Stephen Juba.

Phi Beta Chi admits only high honor students in natural and physical sciences who have been recommended for membership by faculty members in their major field.

The students and faculty members of the Beta Chapter of Phi Beta Chi are honored to have these two distinguished men in our organization.

High Schoolers Contest Winners

By DAVID GLADSTONE

Two parochial schools, for the second consecutive year, won highest honors recently in the annual Mass. State High School Speech contest sponsored jointly by the Mass. Secondary School Principals' Association and Suffolk University.

Boston College High School won the rotating plaque for compiling the highest number of points, and St. Joseph's Girls' High School of Somerville, represented by Lorraine Fedele and Frances Wyrzicki, won the debate tournament. Each girl received an $1800.00 four-year scholarship to Suffolk.

Others receiving a winner's scholarship were Kevin Byrne (Charles O'Malley, B.C. High, and Mark Jay Mirsky, Boston Latin High School).

The event consisted of public speaking, dramatic reading, debate tournament, and oratory contests.

SU speech director Prof. Joseph Strain was General Chairman, assisted by Dr. Francis X. Rooney of the Somerville High School English department, Rev. James A. King, B.C. High, James A. Cooke, Principal of the Showbury High School, Dana E. Drew, Principal of the Shelburne High School, and William E. Boies, Administrative Assistant, Mass. Council of Public Schools.

Also, John E. Collins and Charles K. Kenanlian of Boston Teachers' College, Thomas A. Morse, Assistant Principal of Winchester High School, and Halg Marderosian and Richard Dysart of Emerson College.

DEAN'S MESSAGE TO SENIORS

In a few weeks your days with us will end at your Commencement. On this occasion, the outstanding persons assembled there to honor your achievement will offer to you words of advice and encouragement. Listen to these words with a discerning mind, attentive for some thought, idea, or phrase that will have a personal meaning for you. Do likewise with every talk you hear, every book you read, every drama you watch. For there is no single formula for all to follow; only individual discoveries of thought and ideas which each must weave into the pattern of life for himself.

If you seek widely and select carefully, you will find the pattern emerging as the years roll on. It will become rich as your heart grows richer; it will become strong as your understanding strengthens. One day it will be complete. Then it will be not merely a formula. It will be the fulfillment of a human personality: it will be you.

Suffolk Bar Members Rate High In State

While many around Suffolk were happy on the publication of the December Mass. Bar Examination results showing 48 of the successful candidates — nearly a third of the newspaper lists — were Suffolk alumni, we now have a story not shown by the press report.

Dean O'Brien has analyzed the record of the June 1955 graduates. A comparison of the commencement program with the official reports of the Massachusetts board reveals that 75% of the June 1955 graduates are now attorneys at law in Massachusetts. One is a member of the Connecticut bar also. Six members of the 14 graduates have not yet attempted a bar examination.

Even more striking is the relationship between law school grades and success in bar examinations. Ninety-five percent of the upper half of this class are attorneys, while only 45% of the lower half of the class are admitted to practice. Although this indicates that the curriculum is sound, the faculty competent, and the examinations proper, even more important is the mirror it holds up for students.

Look over your grades. If they are good, stop worrying. If they are weak, stop loafing. In any event forget the alibi and the beefs. You have the same road map of citations that brought success to others. It is the only way.

New SU Bar Members are: Bergstrom, Arthur H.; Bigger, Ira W.; Brown, George A.; Brown, Patrick J.; Burgoyne, Leo A.; Butters, Edward A.; Cagliano, Gabriel R.; Clark, Leigh F.; Clifford, Robert E.; Cohen, Harold; Condon, Paul A.; Connolly, Michael G.; Crowley, Noel F.; Crowley, William J., Jr.; Depante, Robert E.; Donovan, John J.; Donovan, John P.; Duran, Francis M.; Engert, Charles E.; Galanteaux, William J.; Gold, Harriet; Gray, Charles B., Jr.; Houston, Philip A.; Hubbard, Charles A.; Hutton, Albert L., Jr.; Inman, Charles E.; Joyce, Francis J.; Kilian, Bernard J., Jr.; Lagrotterio, Francesco R.

FAITH PANEL

"If an educated Catholic is a spiritual person, he should be to shoulder with his fellow Americans. This doing can mean much satisfaction to the clergy, and their job is full of it, which can make them truly proud."

On the psychological point of view, Dr. Lieberman stated, "Religion is concerned with values. It has a great effect on the lives of people who are to be educated."

He compared religion to a growing plant and noted, "We look to the Almighty for direction and guidance, and bloom forth if we keep in line."

On education, he said, "It takes the thought of each individual who instructs to develop a child in his basic personalities. If this is done, the value is most realistic."

Clubs End Events After Active Year

By ALAN CAMPBELL and FRANCIS N. DUBHAM
The Club Officers wish to thank all who have contributed to the column. Your help has been greatly appreciated.
The college year may be drawing to a close, but from some club activities, you would never guess it.

SCIENCE CLUB

Refreshments were served at the club meeting on Thursday, May 3. Among guests were Dr. Anderson and Mr. Howland.
Officers for the 1966-1967 year were also elected at this meeting. They are president Julius Mikolaitis, vice-president William Miller, and secretary-treasurer Wanda Griganiukis.

W.A.S.U.

On Thursday, May 10, W.A. Club President Dorothy Kom-SU held their banquet at the bar for arranging the interest. Proles in Revere. Among invited guests were Dr. and Mrs. Hubert, President Muncie, and Miss "Mac." More than 30 girls attended the banquet.

SPANISH CLUB

"Wings over Mexico, Guatemala, Cuba, the Caribbean, and Austria" is a color and sound movie that was shown on Wednesday, May 9 in Room 48. Officers for the coming season were elected at this meeting.

NEWMAN CLUB

Fifteen members of the Club recently attended the Province Convention at Brandeis University where movie star Eddie Cantor and Father James Keller were guests of honor.

Mass and Communion were held in the President's office on May 10th, the feast of the Ascension.

A cake sale has helped the club's treasury.

The annual beach party will be held on June second at Nahant Beach, Salem Hospital of Nursing and Brandeis University have been invited to attend.

At Recognition Day exercises on May seventh, Philip Toca no, Theresa Gryczewski, Lena Carnielli, and Marie Whelan were awarded Newman Club Honor Keys.

The Newman Club has concluded one of its most successful years of activities since coming to Suffolk.

VARSITY CLUB

Trophies were awarded on Recognition Day for the best baseball player in the school, the best basketball player, and a special trophy was given to Joe Saponaro, who recently won the Pocket Billiards Championship at East Lansing, Michigan.

PSYCHOLOGY CLUB

On May 10th, the Psychology Club was host to the Tufts University Psychology Club. The club had a demonstration of the Lie Detector as the last of many interesting meetings. On April 28th a Bagel and President Dick LeMay wishes and two Rams' flybuckles Tony LaConti and Al Smyth collided like a couple of bludd linnas on a fly ball.

The Rams rebounded next time out with a solid win over Boston Teachers, 92 to 66. Doucet coasted along on the mound, fanning 11, and scattering seven hits. Doucet collected three hits, Wedlock and Levine two each.

Freshman hurler Bob Galla plied the Rams to a 9-5 win over Gorham Teachers of Maine in their next outing. A four-run, third and five-run fourth highlighted the game. Tony LaConti collected two hits.

Biggest win to date was a 13-1 slugging for the Rams over Brandeis. The blue and gold hit peak on this one as they collected 13 hits and made a fair of the game with six runs in the seventh, two in the eighth, and three in the fifth.

George Doucet tossed a four-hitter for his second win, and the big lefty collected two hits as did LaConti and Hunt.

Suffolk continued its heavy hitting against Stonehill with an electrifying 11-0 win. The Lawmen did it the hard way, scoring six runs after two were out in the final frame.

Pete Wedlock won the Holywood type game with a base hit to left. The Rams ripped Stonehill hurlers for 15 hits.

Old Game

Art Meliace started on the mound, was driven out, and Ray Gallagher relieved him. He pitched until the seventh when Bob Duby relieved. Duby received credit for the win although he pitched to only one man.

Suffolk appears to have its most powerful team in years also honored on Recognition Day and a baseballer in his high school days, showed he is far more proficient with a pen than a bat at a recent Suffolk practice session.

For boss Dick Jones and Allen Fischer, the genial gents of the university also received a plaque which was engraved with Edra's name. It has plates for the winners' names for the next eight years. Dr. Archon accepted the award for the school.

The Business Club held its final field trip of the year on Friday May 11. Students visited Hoad's Milk Plant in Charles Jones and were highly impressed with the modern production and packaging methods used.

STUDENT ZIONIST ORGANIZATION

Recreation Hall. A group of at least seventy five students attended. Mr. Arthur Kaufman, field worker of the American Zionist Council spoke on "The Need of a Jewish Organization on Campus."

President Gerald H. Goldberg has met with many of the students who showed interest in the Student Zionist Organization. They reaffirmed their views on a need for this organization to bring more knowledge of Judaism not only to themselves, the members, but the entire student body of SU.

As another semester heads for the record books, seniors are thinking of their future careers, underclassmen their final exams, and the more frivolous students, gay weekends at Hampton and Hyannis, and 30-day appointments with the state or city to pay for these reveling seasons.

Punching out our last sports column for the year, we thought we'd steal the title line from Dean Martin's "Memories Are Made of This" and bring back a few memorable thoughts of the past year.

LAST ROUNDUP — For John Louder, veteran Suffolk student, whose colorful performance at the Recognition Day ceremonies stamped him as a definite after-cinder-sprinter, John can be had for a reasonable price. Having presented four giant trophies to Suffolk athletes from the Varsity Club.

Art Meliace was awarded the Harold Sullivan Memorial Trophy as the top athlete in the school. Bob Matthews received the Frank Borden Memorial Award as the outstanding baseball player of the Suffolk nine, and little Joe Saponaro walked off with one almost his own size as being the first Suffolk student to win a national championship. He won the National Pocket Billiards Championship in Michigan last month.

Barry's aplomb and pungent utterances would have sent George Jessell scurrying for cover.

And Joe Edra, another senior graduate with high honors, Joe also honored on Recognition Day and a baseballer in his high school days, showed he is far more proficient with a pen than a bat at a recent Suffolk practice session.

full program of interesting events next year. Chapter President Gerald H. Goldberg will attend the National SZO Convention at Wingdale, N. Y., June 13-17 to see what the name of Suffolk will be known to other campuses on a National level.

SZO is proud to note that Donald Katz, a law student and an active member of the SZO, will represent SU in Israel this summer, sponsored by the SZO, there.

Only a small dose of nostalgia, but lending to this observer. To the seniors, success in your future, whatever it be. May we meet at Hyannis, Hampton, the Elms, Wonderland, or elsewhere.

To the underclassmen, we expect to be typing our way at you again in October.

Students Elect Class Officers

By SPENCER CORNUM

Twenty-one class officers for the coming year have assumed their duties after the two day elections held this month.

Arthur Walker, senior, was elected President of the Student Council, and juniors John Carmichael, John Fitzgerald, and Herbert Santos were elected vice-president, secretary and treasurer, respectively, to that group.

The recent Constitutional change has made class President members of the Council. They are: Russell Mahons, senior; James Lallum, junior; and Richard Novak, freshman.

The Council also consists of: James Jung, and Julius Minicini, seniors; and Richard Wheeler, Carter Benjamin, and Norman Wener, sophomores. Incoming freshmen will elect their class officers early next Fall.

Seniors also elected Donald Lorton, vice-president; Theresa Grynowicz, treasurer; and Annie Young, secretary.

Henry Solvetti, vice-president; Richard Walsh, treasurer; and Cecilia Letourney, secretary, are new officers of the junior class.

Chosen to represent the sophomore class are Joseph Saponaro, vice-president; James Ross, treasurer; and Kathleen Whalen, secretary.

SAD SONG FOR JOHN

By DICK BOOKER

Johnny Black had three interests in life. He was a prize fighter, a songwriter, and he had a wife. Success eluded him in all departments, at least for a time.

As a fighter his victories were scarce and his bruises many. The press of his wife took him from the rest-covered divans to the polished mahogany of a piano bench. Brief attempts at selling his musical works ended in defeat, less bloody than the ring wars but also less profitable.

Once more he was wearing trunks under the blinding floor lights, and on occasion staring upwards at them.

The seniors had a ball at their recent banquet-dance. Jeanne Deagan class proxy supplied us with the interesting facts. Jimmy Deimer and Gang supplied the music, and the seniors the words. Bill O'Neill and Arthur Dasegorgas were two featured dancers. Chairman Ed Hansen introduced guests and speakers, among whom were President Mance and Dean O'Brien. Vice-presidents Williams and Flynn were also present. We will print verbatim Prof Williams' speech. After a speaker had concluded his speech and returned to his seat, Chairman Ed Hansen introduced Prof Williams and asked if he cared to say a few words. The professor slowly rose, looked around, clasped the top of his chair and said: "Franklin D. Roosevelt showed this to be the shortest speech on record."

The class of 1966 dedicated itself a song to the tune of "St. Bernard's Band," and then sang itself into the history books with a fine rendition of "On Top of Old Suffolk."

An old friend, Jack Nolan, 35, visited school recently and he certainly looked well. He hasn't starved to death, so I guess there's still room for a few more of our chosen field. Young Jack is a member of both the Mass and Conn bars.

Consolidation is extended to Al and Joe Wood, 37, on the recent passing of their father.

Well, with this the last Journal of the year, Legally Speaking is going into hibernation (good luck in the exams, and enjoy yourselves this Summer, F2 to the bar candidates, since you are all going to pass the exam with flying colors. I hope you do well in the field. After all, we'll be practicing alongside each other someday.

The feel of the ivory keys, seemed more agreeable to his wife Mary's insistence, a songwriter, and he had a wife. Success eluded him in all departments, at least for a time.

S. U. Grad New Priest

By WILLIAM OJA

Leonard T. Duffy, a former Suffolk student, was ordained to the Catholic priesthood on Saturday, May 16, by Archbishop Richard J. Cushing at the Immaculate Conception Church in Malton.

The newly ordained priest graduated earlier this year from St. Bonaventure University where he received his B.A. in Theology and his M.A. degree.

While at Suffolk, Father Duffy majored in journalism, graduating in 1961, and received his B.A. from the College of Liberal Arts.

A resident of Malton, Father Duffy attended Malton Catholic High School, graduating in 1957. He worked as a newspaper reporter for two years with the United States Air Force. While with the Air Force he was stationed in Alaska.

Father Duffy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard A. Duffy, 87 Follenmore Rd., Malton. Mr. Duffy works as a heat engineer, and Mrs. Duffy is a housewife.

The young priest also has a brother, Donald, 25, who is married and works at the Malton Savings Bank, and a sister, Joan, 22, who is a dental assistant.

Father Duffy has volunteered to work in the missionary society of Lismark North District.

WHY DANCE?

Dolan Hand-Kerr

At a recent YWCA dance a new type of dance was introduced to a young lady.

It was called the "Y" dance and may be here to stay.

As the couple danced to the soft strains of "Moonlight" the young lady pulled the male dancer closer and uttered, "Why Dance?"

For a man must produce quantity as well as quality. The musician's song eventually landed in the "rarely heard" class and so did he.

The fight crowd again saw the one-time success giving one and taking three. His wife refused to watch the bloodletting any longer. Convinced that her husband's dubious boxing skills would run them both, she left him never to see him again.

She did not stay to see him permanently return from the ring and take up the more delicate art, but she must have heard of his last and most famous ballad. Her departure was his inspiration. "I'm Going to Buy a Paper Doll, to Call My Own."

Dolan Hand-Kerr, president of student council, was awarded for extra-curricular achievement in planning and organization of student affairs, was handled by John T. Dolan, President of the Student Council.

Father Kren, Newman Club Chaplain, let students and faculty in prayer and later awarded Club members certificates for their efforts in making the organization an effective body.

Charles Laidlaw, Director of Athletics, lauded the girls basketball team for its success during the past campaign. Then he presented the boys' team boxing skills would run them down, with the basketball letters.

Recognition certificates for academic merit were awarded by Prof. Arthur West, Junior Class Advisor.

The Business Club received recognition as Dr. Don Aronson presented the Hatcher-Tre play to Joseph Edra for outstanding academic work, especially in marketing.

INSIDE S. U.

By MARIAN STONE

Another school year has been gone. The last. We've just said that, writing this column for you. And we hope that you've enjoyed it.

I wonder if the Boston Globe has been reduced to much information they give to Suffolk during the last class. We were surprised to learn that the Globe had difficulty finding enough news to fill the pages, and with all the news around here.

Want to see the class officers on Monday after class? During election time of the past year, we were really keen.

W.A.S.T. and their annual banquet at the Frides in Bevere on May 16.

Seniors have now made your deposits for the yearbook? They'll be ready soon.

Congratulations go to Miss Annie Young on winning the "Miss Suffolk" title.

A Suffolkite Robert Lachy, is engaged to Lois Anne Wilson of South Boston Congregate Ladies.

John Duffy has switched from tables in chairs for obvious reasons. On his acting back, who is the 100 screacher whose tail Dr. Hammy would like to decorate with salt?

From a student teacher's notebook. A slightly eighth grade class was asked to write a composition on why they went to school. The answers?

The teachers need the money, to train our brains to learn discipline to keep off the streets.

We'll really be sorry to leave (this is my last year) but we'll leave with many fond memories of Tom Dolan accepting the Blue Hall. Russ Mahoney asking "number, please." Norman King and Tom Devereaux running off to the Beason (they like the orange juice there), Walter Cook and Dick Remoy planning their trip to Mexico and their first novel.

Have a nice vacation every body.
